CUBAN HOSPITALS.

Next Subject For War Investigation.

Startling Testimony Given On Neglect of Sick. Peace Commission Meeting.

CUBAN HOSPITALS.
Subject to be Considered Next by the Investigation Committee.

Huntsville, Ala., Oct. 25.—The war investigation committee today began its inspection of Camp Forsee. The investigation here will be directed especially to procuring the facts concerning the management of the hospitals and the care of the sick while the army was in Cuba. Many men here served in Cuba.

Sick Without Tents.

Anniston, Ala., Oct. 25.—It was not a "yellow" journalist, but a Lieutenant in the regular army, Lieutenant Colonel Cabell of the Second Arkansas regiment, who furnished a basis of fact for belief in the sensational stories concerning the neglect of the sick that have been printed. In his testimony yesterday the colonel said in reply to questions put by Dr. Conner that he had observed a condition of affairs at the hospital of the second division of the Third army corps in June which he considered horrible. He had himself seen one sick man lying in the rain without the protection of even a tent, and he had been informed by other officers that several others had been left in the same way. He thought the doctors were honest enough, but they did not know how to give supplies. Mule drivers had been used for nurses, and he had been reliably informed that many of them were in the habit of getting drunk and neglecting their patients. Dr. Scholer was the division surgeon at the time. Colonel Cabell's testimony made an impression on the commissioners.

Dr. H. H. Lee, major and surgeon of the third brigade, first division, Third corps, said he had urged the removal of the camp from Chickamauga because he considered the water bad and because of the impossibility of getting deep sinks.

Major Benson, who was inspector general of the first division, Third corps, at Chickamauga, said it had been impossible to enforce sanitary regulations at Chickamauga because when men were arrested the courts would not punish them. He thought the camp site good, but said that some of the camps had been poorly located. He considered the men who had located the camps responsible for this state of affairs.

Major Woodbury, an engineer on General Frank's staff, did not consider the site of Camp Thomas suitable for a permanent camp. He said that after a rain he had seen water from the creek draining the camp running into the intake pipes of the camp pipe supply system.

Captain Fremont, who was adjutant general of the second division, Third corps, detailed the difficulties attending the government of the hospital of that division. He said that when attendants were complained of neglect, it was not uncommon for them to swear at the complainants. Dr. Fremont said that Dr. Hubbard, who was at one time executive officer of the hospital, was tyrannical and overbearing.

Violation of the Protocol.
Washington, Oct. 25.—The administration is said to have reached the conclusion that the disposition of other property as cannon in mountains and other fixed properties by the Spanish officials in Havana is a violation of the spirit of the protocol, and is taking steps to suspend the practice.

There was some talk at the cabinet meeting yesterday of the work of the Paris commission. Although it is realized that the situation is not satisfactory, confidence was expressed in the ultimate success of the American contention. The Spanish commissioners, it was stated, were asking for everything in the hopes of getting something. The question of the relation Porto Rico shall bear to the general government of the United States is receiving the careful consideration of the president and the cabinet. The question of a change in the currency system of the island, the customs and internal revenue laws, the suffrage, and other subjects are under consideration and probably will be treated upon at some length in the president's forthcoming message to the congress. It is not unlikely that the congress will be asked to pass some general legislation respecting the temporary government of the island, with a recommendation that a committee be appointed to consider with more deliberation than is possible in a short session all questions involved.

READY FOR THE QUESTION.
American Peace Commissioners Expect Philippine Matter Soon.

Paris, Oct. 25.—The American peace commissioners met this morning, preparatory to the joint session at 4 this afternoon. The Americans fully realize they are approaching the discussion of the chief question, the future of the Philippines. They are well prepared if the matter should be broached today by the Spaniards.

KITCHENER RETURNS.
Reaches France on Same Steamer With Captain Baratar.

Marseilles, Oct. 25.—General Lord Kitchener of Khartoum and Captain Baratar, the bearer of Major Marchand's Tashoda report, arrived from Alexandria today. During the voyage both officers dined together and cordially conversed on the customs of the tribes and peoples each had met. Each received an ovation. They left for Paris on the same train.

Still Loyal to Spain.

Manila, Oct. 25.—The American authorities have released some Spanish sailors captured during the war. The authorities of Iloilo have cabled Madrid, expressing loyalty to the Spanish crown.

Ex-patriate Celebrate.

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—A heavy down-pour of rain began at 5 o'clock this morning, with no signs of cessation, so the civic day parade was postponed until Friday.

The president and party arrived at noon. It included Mrs. McKinley, Secretary Alger and wife, Postmaster General Smith, Secretary and Miss Wilson.

Philadelphia's Jubilee.

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—At the close of the naval parade Tuesday afternoon, Secretary Long and party went aboard the Texas. After the exchange of greetings, Mayor Warwick proposed the health of the secretary, and called upon him for a response. The secretary said: "If ever the navy was worthy of the nation it represents, it is worthy of it today. I appreciate the honor you have conferred upon me in connecting my name with that of the commodore. I appreciate the honor of standing on the historic deck of the Texas in the presence of the man whose glorious work at Santiago has written the name of the American flag high on the records of the honor of nations. I respond as heartily as our country does to these, our heroes, and to you of Philadelphia, for honoring them as you do." Commodore Philip and Captain Sigbee spoke briefly.

Today's program of the jubilee included the civic display. It was an other event in the history of Philadelphia enterprise, and was eminently successful. Thousands lined the streets and witnessed the exhibition of what this city offers in the way of industry and variety.

Lawlessness Through Politics.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 25.—Governor Daniel L. Russell has issued a proclamation dealing with the situation in this state. He declares "that the political canvass now going forward has been made the occasion and pretext for bringing about conditions of lawlessness in certain counties in this state." The proclamation also cites "that certain counties lying along the southern border of this state have been actually invaded by certain armed and lawless men from another state," and that political meetings have been broken up and threats and intimidation used to prevent registration of voters, and that citizens have been fired on from ambush, and others whipped. All citizens are enjoined to observe the law and all civil officers to enforce the law, and lawless men from other states are ordered to leave on pain of arrest and punishment.

Something Lacking in Catholic Men.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Several hundred delegates are attending the convention of the Catholic Young Men's National union. Rev. William T. McGuire of Brooklyn, the president, in his annual report, referred to the services of Catholics in the war and said that Father Chidwick of the ill-fated but well-avenge, Maine, had especially immortalized himself for calm courage, zeal and tremendous self-sacrifice.

Rev. D. J. Stafford of this city, in an address, said that there was something lacking in the Catholic young men of today, religious indifference that should give way to activity, loyalty and interest in the church. He said that if the young men had the ambition of their fathers this country would be theirs within 50 years.

Jesse James on Trial.

Kansas City, Oct. 25.—The trial of Jesse James, son of the famous outlaw, charged with complicity in the Missouri Pacific train robbery, was begun this morning. A hard fight is expected. Both sides have prominent lawyers and a formidable array of witnesses. Many of the best men are out for the defense of James. The chief of police says he has sufficient evidence to convict.

Missionaries Arrested.

Lima, Peru, Oct. 25.—The American Protestant distributors have been arrested at Arequipa, capital of the Peruvian province of the same name, charged with distributing papers contrary to the state religion. The state attorney will apply for their release.

Westerly Storm.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—A wintery storm, central over the southern end of Lake Michigan has prevailed in the northwestern states for the past 24 hours. Snow fell west of Chicago from two to eight inches. A high gale made a regular blizzard. Telegraph and telephone wires are down. On the lake, the gale made havoc in the shipping.

Emperor in Palestine.

Haifa, Palestine, Oct. 25.—The emperor and empress of Germany arrived at noon. The town is profusely decorated, every house flying the German and Turkish flags. Their majesties were driven direct to Mt. Carmel, where the German-American colony is situated.

60 Japanese Drowned.

Kobe, Japan, Oct. 25.—The Japanese steamer Mijazaki sunk today immediately after a collision with the Japanese steamer Kinshu-Maru. Sixty Japanese were drowned.

Tod Sloan Wins Again.

London, Oct. 25.—Tod Sloan won the Cheveley stakes and second walter handicap today.

Represented by an Orator.

Havana, Oct. 25.—Manuel Sangulilly, the well known author and orator, who was a distinguished soldier in the 19 years' war, will represent the Second, Third and Fifth corps of the Cuban army at the assembly convened to consider the establishment of a permanent government. His choice is highly significant as indicating the sentiment of a large number of Cubans now under arms. Sangulilly, who is a Cuban of the Cubans and an extreme radical, has made several speeches that have caused a profound sensation, in which he has urged upon Cubans the imperative necessity of placing full confidence in the United States government, and has censured those who have shown distrust of the Americans. He has advocated the disbanding of the troops and their return to the arts of peace, dwelling long and earnestly upon the importance to the Cubans of securing the confidence of the United States. He even went so far as to declare that if the Cuban leaders should assume a hostile attitude toward the Americans he would enter the ranks of those opposed to such a course. His selection at this juncture and in view of such sentiments indicates a rational judgment is making headway in certain quarters.

To Play Ball In Cuba.

Cincinnati, Oct. 25.—If everything connects as intended, Manager Bancroft will repeat this winter his trip of '73 to Cuba. Then he was backed by a medicine concern in Rochester, and this time, if he goes, he will be backed by one of the largest tobacco concerns in the United States. His plan is to organize a baseball team composed of the stars of the National league, play several games through the south during the holidays, landing in Havana on Jan. 1, when the city is under American control, and play a series of games with the Cuban club.

Out His Threat.

Cornwall, N. Y., Oct. 25.—David E. Winton, president of the bank of Addison, committed suicide yesterday by cutting his throat with a razor. He had been in ill health, and was shaving preparatory to going to a sanatorium when he committed the act. Dependency on account of his illness seems to have been the only cause for the suicide. He was 60 years of age.

A Storm of Thunder.

A storm of thunder and rain developed Monday night over the central Mississippi valley, which Tuesday night was central over Michigan and northern Illinois, causing scattered rains in that section and snows at a few points in the Mississippi valley, including St. Louis. It will probably move eastward during the next 24 hours, and the cloudy weather and rain promised seems likely to continue into Thursday morning, but probably followed by clearing by noon and fair in the afternoon and night. It now promises to be colder Thursday, with brisk westerly winds.

DAYS OF BOULANGISM.

Turmoil In France Given an Impetus by a Crisis.

Minister of War Bolted, and His Colleagues Followed.

Stormy Scenes During the Meeting of Deputies.

Upholders of the Strong Arm Dominated the Assembly.

Violent Collision Between Royalists and Republicans.

Paris, Oct. 25.—The days of Boulangism are returning without a Flequet to draw the sword against a factious general, and without a Constant to make him cross the frontier.

The cabinet has been overturned on a mere pretext, because bands of people, collected by those defying authority while pretending to defend it, have formed agitation and almost terror. In one street the rioters tried to overturn a carriage containing three Americans, amid cries of "Down with the Jews," "Down with the Catholics," and "Down with the Protestants." The taste for street demonstrations is reviving, and perhaps on Thursday, when the court of cassation will meet, there will be a renewal of the uproar.

General Chanoiné is the fifth minister of war who has declared himself absolutely convinced of the guilt of Dreyfus, and the third who has resigned on that account. His total inexplicable and unexpected action in surrendering his portfolio Tuesday was the chief sensation in a day of sensational events. He dealt a veritable coup to the cabinet and precipitated a new struggle between the military and civil authorities. Yesterday was the first time that Chanoiné ever sat on the ministerial bench, and his colleagues, knowing that he was unaccustomed to the tricks of oratorical effects, tried vainly to prevent him from ascending the tribune. He spoke briefly, with painful incoherence, and then litimally bolted from the chamber.

The scenes that followed were almost indescribable. When Premier Brisson appeared in the tribune he was greeted with insults and imprecations from all sides, but he stood his ground calmly. After attempts upon the part of various deputies to discuss the alleged military plot, the insults to the army, etc., their remarks being punctuated with interruptions and cheers. Mr. Ribot, in behalf of his friends, including Mr. Melne, approved Mr. Brisson's statement, and added: "We have every confidence in the army and do not wish to see it attacked. All republicans are united on this subject."

Mr. DeMafay then proposed a resolution calling upon the government to "end the campaign of insult against the army," but Mr. Brisson refused to accept it.

Mr. Cavallagne, the former minister of war, rushed to the tribune and demanded an immediate discussion of the resolution. He was greeted with hostile shouts, including "sabre," "forgery," "razor," which caused a great uproar. The shouting of "razor" was probably an allusion to the suicide of Lieutenant Colonel Henry, who is said to have cut his throat in his prison cell at the fortress of Mount Valerian after confessing to having forged one of the Dreyfus documents, though it has since been claimed that the razor with which the dead was committed was not found in the cell of the deceased.

Mr. Brisson accepted the order of the day, proposed by Mr. Ribot, affirming the supremacy of the civil over the military power, which was adopted by a vote of 225 yeas to 2 noes.

After the ministers had withdrawn the chamber adopted, amid cries of "Down with the Jews," the order of the day, combining the motions of Mr. Ribot and Mr. DeMafay, by a vote of 460 to 88.

A fresh turmoil was aroused by the declaration of a deputy that all the ministers except General Chanoiné ought to be impeached. The chamber adjourned to Nov. 4.

It is the general impression among deputies that President Faure will ask Alexander Ribot to form a cabinet.

After the adjournment there was great excitement, followed by street demonstrations, principally maintained by the anti-Semites, in the vicinity of the offices of the anti-Dreyfus papers. At many points the boulevards soon became almost impassable, and there were serious collisions between the demonstrators and the police, who had been fasting since early morning. Only with the utmost difficulty was a semblance of order preserved, and in many cases it was necessary for the cuirassiers to clear the streets.

About midnight a mob of members of the Patriotic league smashed the windows and glass staircases of a shop whose owner is said to be a Jew.

The vigilance committee of the socialist party has issued a manifesto condemning the action of General Chanoiné and denouncing the "make believe Republicans who have strangled debate in the chamber and created a crisis." The committee has decided to organize all the socialist and revolutionary Republican forces in the country against "military and clerical reaction."

About 10 o'clock a band of youthful royalists fought in front of the Military club and, after cheering for the army, marched, preceded by the tri-color, towards the newspaper offices of The Soleil and The Gaulois, singing "We need Gamelle!" "Gamelle" is a nickname of the Duke of Orleans, and the reference was to the story that the duke, when entering the army, expressed the desire to eat from the gamelle, or soup bowl of a private. On arriving at the boulevard the demonstrators, who had grown to several thousands, met a Republican demonstration. A violent collision took place, and the Republicans captured the royalists' flag, which increased the excitement.

CANTATA WILL RENDERED.

Director Thomas Palmer Presented
With a Purse by the Pastor

There was a full sized attendance at the concert and cantata given in the Baptist church Tuesday evening. It was by the church choir assisted by Mrs. Wilson H. Curtis of North Adams, Robert Kerr of North Adams, N. Y., and the choir of the town. The concert opened with a chorus by the choir, William P. Davis of Albany, N. Y., was unable to be present and Mr. Carr and Mrs. Holloway sang a duet. Mrs. Curtis sang a solo and Robert Kerr (colville) rendered a ballad. The choir then rendered another chorus and that completed the concert program.

The next on the evening's program was the cantata "Hebrews." It was exceptionally well rendered. The principal parts were taken by Mrs. Wilson H. Curtis of North Adams, Thomas Carr of this town and Robert Kerr of Colville of Albany, N. Y. Mr. Carr sang with his usual good success and Mr. Colville proved his worth. He has a strong voice and sang with effect. Mrs. Curtis was the favorite of the evening. She made a very fine appearance and her singing elicited much applause. She has a clear, sweet soprano voice and her high notes were taken with perfect ease. The choir is also deserving of credit for their work and the march music was very good. Mrs. Place is entitled to a great deal of praise for her work at the organ.

To Thomas Palmer is due the most praise. It was under his direction that the musical was given and his efforts were appreciated. Just before the closing chorus of the cantata, Rev. H. B. Fossett, pastor of the church, in a well prepared speech presented Mr. Palmer with a purse of $20 on behalf of the choir as a token of their esteem and appreciation. The recipient was completely surprised and thanked his donors graciously.

SUDDEN DEATH OF JAMES R. PICKETT

Undertaker James R. Pickett died suddenly at his home on the corner of Temple and Elm streets this morning at 5 o'clock. The news of his death was a shock to the whole community. Many people were not aware of his sickness. Tuesday morning he had been the body of a woman on Elm street. However, he had not been feeling well for about a week. It was only a short time ago that while fishing at Cheshire reservoir he was taken with a sort of shock and had to be brought home in a carriage. He was under the doctor's care ever since and death is supposed to have been caused by acute rheumatism.

He was born in Jefferson, N. Y., 1847 and had lived in town about nine years. He purchased the undertaking business of R. N. Richmond and also conducted a furniture repair shop. Last March he took in a partner, Felix McCabe and the firm name has since been Pickett & McCabe.

The deceased was a very popular man. He was unostentatious yet he mingled with many people and was always pleasant and jovial. He had considerable ability and last spring was a candidate for the nomination of selectman at the republican caucus. He was grand chief ranger of the American Order of Foresters and was one of the chief organizers of the society. He was a past grand master of Hoosac Valley lodge of Odd Fellows, a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, a member of the Associate of A. R. foreman of the hook and ladder squad of the Alerts and a member of the Sons of St. George.

Mr. Pickett was married twice. He leaves a widow, a son and three stepsons. William Pickett of Worcester, N. Y., Smith Emmett and Albert Gare respectively, of this town. Two brothers, Daniel and Elmer Pickett of Worcester, N. Y., and a sister in the same place.

He was a member of the Methodist church. The funeral will probably be held Friday morning and interment will be in Worcester, N. Y.

Francis O'Neill will give an exhibition of fancy club swinging. Altogether the entertainment is one well prepared and will be worth attending.

KICKED BY A HORSE.

Frank Dinmore, clerk at Bowen & Mole's grocery store at Maple Grove, met with a bad accident Tuesday evening. He had just returned from delivering goods and was putting his horse in the barn when another horse that stood in a stall near where Mr. Dinmore passed kicked and struck him in the left hip. The force of the kick knocked him down and bruised him badly. Dr. Boom was called, but no bones were broken. It was a lucky escape. The horse that kicked Mr. Dinmore is not at all vicious but had been standing in the barn and was frisky.

IS IT A TRIFLE?

THAT COMMON TROUBLE, ACID DYSPEPSIA OR SOUR STOMACH.

Now Recognized as Cause of Serious Diseases.

Acid dyspepsia, commonly called heart-burn or sour stomach, is a form of indigestion resulting from fermentation of the food. The stomach being too weak to promptly digest it, the food remains until fermentation begins, filling the stomach with gas and a bitter, sour, burning taste in the mouth is often present. This condition soon becomes chronic and being an every day occurrence is given but little attention. Because dyspepsia is not immediately fatal, many people do nothing for the trouble.

Within a recent period a remedy has been discovered prepared solely to cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles. It is known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and is now becoming rapidly used and prescribed as a radical cure for every form of dyspepsia.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been placed before the public and are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package. It is prepared by the Stuart Chemical Co., Marshall, Mich., and while it promptly and effectively restores a vigorous digestion, at the same time it is perfectly harmless and will not injure the most delicate stomach. But on the contrary by giving perfect digestion strengthens the stomach, improves the appetite and makes life worth living.

When He Is a Man.

One day recently during the history lesson the little king of Spain asked his professor to tell him how Spain came to lose Chile, Mexico and the other Spanish-American colonies. The story was narrated so thrillingly and artistically that the royal boy listened spell bound and continued, after it had ended, to sit absorbed in meditation. At last, a thought having struck him, he looked up to his professor and inquired: "What must I do in order to get back those countries for Spain?" "The first and most important thing of all," replied the cautious and diplomatic pedagogue, "is that your majesty should—should—grow up to be a man. When you are a man—" "H'm" muttered the lad, disenchanted, "when I'm a man, it is not a history professor's advice that I shall be asking. I shall have a prime minister to tell me then."—Exchange.

Francis O'Neill will give an exhibition of fancy club swinging. Altogether the entertainment is one well prepared and will be worth attending.

There was a good sized attendance at the Robert Emmet Bazaar in the opera house Tuesday evening. A dance was enjoyed and those present had a very good time. Music was furnished by Palmer's orchestra and James Kelley was prompter.

This evening a fine and varied program will be rendered. W. C. Morgan of the Third Regular cavalry, U. S. A., will give a sword exhibition. He will use a sword purchased by Capt. H. O. Hicks from a Spanish officer after the surrender at Santiago and will ride Major R. A. Whipple's polo pony. The West brothers will appear three three minute rounds for a silver cup. Francis O'Neill will give an exhibition of fancy club swinging. Altogether the entertainment is one well prepared and will be worth attending.

WINTER BODICES.

A Wide Range of Choice Permalinthe in Cut and Style.

Count bodices, which are worn in so many of the new models of costume and which promise to be very largely worn during the winter, are manufactured by no means the only style of corset approved by fashion. The blouse bodice, open or closed, and the little short bolero are still in high favor. Separate bodices to be worn over an ordinary bodice are often seen and are usually made of a different material, but in a harmonizing color, either in cut and style.

broader satin and velvet being much employed for them. By their means a simple costume may be converted into one which appears much more elaborate.

Saved from the Surgeon's Knife

No organs are of greater importance to the human body than the kidneys. Their duty is to sift and strain the poisonous and waste matter from the blood, and if they fail to do this, the trouble shows in the nervous system, and even in the brain. Your life is at stake when there are pains in the small of your back—when you are compelled to get up at night to urinate—when the passing of water causes scalding pain—when there is a sediment in the urine in the vessel, or when it appears white or milky. When so afflicted, you can conquer the trouble with Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, the greatest medicine that civilization has ever known for curing Kidney, Bladder, Blood and Liver Diseases.

James Lettice, of Cananahar, N. Y., tells of his wonderful cure. "Some years ago I was attacked with pains in my back and sides that were fearful. I could not control my kidneys, and what came from me was filled with mucus and blood. An Albany doctor was to perform an operation upon me and said my home doctor could take care of me after I saw an advertisement of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which seemed to fit my case, so I decided to try that before I submitted to the operation. I began its use. When I had taken about two bottles the flow from the bladder grew cleaner, and the pain stopped, and in a short time I was saved from the surgeon's knife, and am now well."

Favorite Remedy also cures Typhoid, Scrophulous, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Constipation. For Female Troubles it is unequalled. It is sold for $1.00 a bottle at all drug stores.

Sample Bottle Free! In order that sufferers may be convinced of the curative virtues of Favorite Remedy, a free sample bottle will be sent, prepaid, to those who send their full postoffice address to the Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y. It is necessary to say that you saw the advertisement in this paper if you wish to take advantage of this genuine and liberal offer. Send today.

Two Days. Do you remember how blue was the sky, How the birds sang all the day, How many blossoms the garden could show, How the brook talked on its way, How many games and nice stories we had, That's because Dicky was pleasant and glad.

Do you remember the clouds in the sky, How the sun hid all the day, How not a bird in the branches would sing, How that the brook went on its way, How not a dog nor a story we had, That's because Dicky was so gay, and—Agnes Lewis Mitchell in Youth's Companion.

THE ANGLO-AMERICAN CONTROVERSY.

Although there is undoubtedly a possibility that the Fashoda incident may result in an open rupture between Great Britain and France, the chances are that the complication will be settled by diplomacy rather than by the clash of arms. It would be a lamentable misfortune both for Europe and the whole civilized world for two great nations to become involved in a devastating war over an incident that happened in the heart of Africa.

But if war does come it will be because France refuses to accept the inevitable, and, shutting her eyes to her own weakness, rushes blindly into a struggle in which the chances are strongly against her. Great Britain has undertaken the ambitious project of opening up a route under her control from Cairo into the heart of Africa and probably clear through to the Cape. She has pushed a victorious expedition under Gen. Kitchener into the Sudan country at great expense and trouble, and now she does not propose to be thwarted in her onward movement by a handful of Frenchmen who have encamped along her pathway and who would probably have been crushed or driven back before this had it not been for the overwhelming victory of the Anglo-Egyptian forces over the Mahdists at Omdurman.

England's demand that the French withdraw from Fashoda is strong logically and strategically, and it does not seem probable that French statesmen will allow their country to be led into war over a controversy in which France would be entirely at a disadvantage with her adversary. However, it cannot be forgotten that the French are an excitable and self-confident people, and in the present feverish state of the republic growing out of the Dreyfus affair and the military scandals that have followed it, there is danger that the national restlessness may find vent in the prosecution of a foreign war in which all domestic dissensions would be forgotten. As has been previously stated in these columns, the issue of peace or war rests entirely with France. Great Britain has taken a decided stand. All parties in England are rallying around the government in its demand that France shall not trespass upon England's preserves, and France must either withdraw from Fashoda or fight. It would be deplorable if in her infatuation she should choose the latter alternative.

ELECTION OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Many voters seem to think that if they elect a republican president they need not especially concern themselves about parties and politics for the next four years, apparently forgetting that a President can be of little service to his party or the country unless he has a majority in both houses of congress to support his policy. It is, therefore, of especial importance that in the approaching election every congressional district possible should be carried for the republican candidate, so that President McKinley, during the next two years of his administration may have a majority in the house who will support him in all measures which he may deem for the good of the country. The majority should be so large that partisan opponents cannot thwart him in carrying out the principles which were emphatically endorsed with such good results two years ago, and which are bound to give the country such an era of prosperity as has never been exceeded if ever equalled.

Capt. Blanco has already launched the Cubans out upon the sea of Central American revolutionary tendencies.

The New York papers have evidently turned all their Cuban war correspondents loose upon the political campaign in that state.

Solomon in all his glory was not half so boldly in evidence as is the war lord of Europe on his journey to Jerusalem.

Congressman Lawrence has made every possible effort to serve his constituency and to represent them with credit at Washington. He is entitled to re-election by a splendid majority.

Robert F. Harvie and Charles A. Card for representatives should have the full republican vote. They are from the republican ranks and will make safe legislators.

Williams college and Boston University have now both accepted General Wheeler's suggestion that American colleges might do a grand service for Cuba by offering free tuition to two Cubans. The example will have other followers.

If "one good term deserves another" were ever true of any one it is true of Sheriff Fuller. He has made a splendid record for the past three years and should by all rights be endorsed for a second term. The affairs of the office were never administered in more satisfactory shape than now. No change should be made at this time.

Sheriff Charles W. Fuller and ex-Sheriff John Crosby are making a dignified contest for the shrievalty. That the contest is kept on the proper plane as far as the principals are concerned is a matter of gratification. They are candidates standing upon their records. Mr. Fuller will be elected and Mr. Crosby will be defeated, but both of them will have the satisfaction of contemplating a clean fight for election.

The republican voters of this commonwealth have a duty at the polls in November that they should do sacredly. It is to see that none but republican congressmen are returned from this state. Every republican congressman sent to Washington is an endorsement of Mr. McKinley, and a rebuke for unpatriotic politicians, who endeavor to make political capital of a righteous, successful war, and that against the president, to whose firmness, caution, prudence and devotion in troubled times the country owes so much.—Worcester Spy.

The Grenadier Guards, who were with Gen. Kitchener at Khartoum and who recently returned from the Sudan, show that the after effects of war are more terrible than the actual fighting. Almost a third of their number is on the sick list. When the Egyptian troops returned to Cairo reports stated that they "died like flies." No newspaper in England or elsewhere in Great Britain has attempted to show that the troops were not properly cared for, nor has there been any effort made to lessen the glory of the great achievement. But its different in free America.

Anti-British Sentiment Aroused. Montreal, Oct. 26.—The French-Canadian papers are freely criticizing England over its course in Egypt. The government organ stated that, though they were loyal subjects of the empire, they were Frenchmen also. The Ministry says: "The English do not admit either discussion or arbitration. They simply order the recall of Marchand, and if this demand is not complied with they are ready to make war." This reminds one of the procedure of the United States against Spain. Right is nothing to the anti-Spanish from the moment that he is certain that he is the stronger.

A Call For Rifles. Carson, Nev., Oct. 26.—Governor Safford has received a call for rifles and ammunition from citizens in and around Pinal, Yuma, and Mohave counties. The Shoshone Indians near that city are planning an outbreak. All the able-bodied white men or rifles around are congregating on one of the ranches and have armed themselves as best they can to repel an attack. The trouble arose over the arrest of an Indian, the leaders having incited their followers to resist the law. The Indians are well armed, and other tribes are expected to come to their aid.

A Good Builder

Some Telling Points Derived From Actual Experience

The Principle Involved is Plainly of Universal Application.

A careful builder labors first to secure a solid foundation. No superstructure, however beautiful, is safe without this. So it is in building up health. Hood's Sarsaparilla builds upon a solid foundation by purifying, enriching and vitalizing the blood. Read this:

"My blood was impure, I was weak and work was a burden. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. I now have more color in my face. I can eat and sleep well and can attend to my household duties with pleasure. I have gained in flesh and have a healthy look." Mrs. ALFRED A. HOWARD, 105 Summer St., Taunton, Mass.

MRS. PINKHAM CONQUERS BACKACHE.

Four Women Who Owe Their Present Happiness to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR Mrs. PINKHAM—When I wrote to you last June, I was not able to do anything. I suffered with backache, headache, bearing-down pains, pains in my lower limbs, and ached all through my body. Menstruations were very painful. I was almost a skeleton. I followed your advice and now am well and fleshy, and able to do all my own housework. I took medicine from a physician over a year, and it did not do me a particle of good. I would advise all suffering women to write to Mrs. Pinkham. She will answer all letters promptly, and tell them how to cure those aches and pains so common to women.—Mrs. C. L. WINK, Marquette, Texas.

I think it is my duty to write and let you know what your medicine has done for me. For two years I suffered with female weakness, bearing-down pains, headache, backache, and too frequent occurrence of the menses. I was always complaining. My husband urged me to try your Vegetable Compound, and I finally did. I have taken three bottles and it has made me feel like a different woman. I advise every woman that suffers to take your medicine and be cured.—Mrs. GAZZERT LIGHTY, 613 S. Prince St., Lancaster, Pa.

I had suffered for over two years with backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness, falling and ulceration of the womb, leucorrhoea, and about every ill a woman could have. I had tried doctors, but with no success, and it seemed as though death was the only relief for me. After using five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and four packages of Sanative Wash, I am well. Have had no more pain, womb trouble, backache or headache.—Mrs. CLAUDIA HALPER, Cream Ridge, N. J.

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was afflicted with female complaints so that I could hardly walk. My back ached terribly, in fact, I ached all over. Was not able to raise myself up some of the time. I had no appetite and was so nervous that I could hardly sleep. I have taken two bottles of your Compound and feel like another person, can now eat and sleep to perfection, in fact, am perfectly well.—Mrs. SUE McCULLOUGH, Adlai, W. Va.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER

SOME STRANGE SITUATIONS IN THE PRESENT STATE CAMPAIGN.

Though a Little Dull at First, the Fighting is Now Intense Enough to Suit the Most Exacting—How the Newspapers Stand.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—[Special.]—For a little time after the nomination of the gubernatorial candidates it seemed that possibly the oft repeated prediction of a lively state campaign would fall of fulfillment after all, so quickly and with such apparent unconcern was the battle opened. But there has been no lack of liveliness for the past week, nor is there any probability that there will be any slackening of interest in the contest from now till the close of the polls on election day. General Huston has superseded General Apthorp in command of the forces on both sides. Today the fight is being waged with a degree of earnestness, not to say bitterness, that has rarely been equalled and perhaps never excelled in this big town of New York.

The Judiciary Contest. Outside this city there is of course no direct interest in the contest over the supreme court judges, but here that fight may almost be said to overshadow the Roosevelt-Van Wyck campaign. So far as the Bar association on the one hand and Tammany on the other are concerned, the judiciary campaign is held to be of much the greater importance, and many professional men are working for or against Mr. Croker in this matter who are not interfering at all in the general state fight.

For the benefit of some readers who may not have a clear and complete understanding of the situation it may be said that Judge Daly, whose renomination Mr. Croker turned down, is a Democrat, that he was nominated for another term by the Republicans because of his general acceptability as a judge and that Mr. Croker's objection to him was avowedly based on his being so efficiently recognized as the "Boss" of the Bar association. In Judge Daly's place Mr. Croker caused a lawyer named Leventritt to be named, he being one who would be likely to look after the faithful. Now, it happens that the majority of the lawyers belonging to the Bar association, regardless of politics, do not approve of Mr. Leventritt and declare that his record is not good, hence the organized opposition which was begun last week.

Curiously enough a number of those most prominent in the anti-Leventritt fight are Democrats in politics and have held high places in the party councils, though not lately in full sympathy with its policies. One of the most noteworthy of these men, William D. Hornblower, it will be remembered, was named for a United States judgeship by President Cleveland, but defeated in the senate through the efforts of David B. Hill. Another, Hon. George C. Cookman, was once a member of the Tammany "Big Five" and a representative in congress from a city district. James C. Carter and Frederic Goodrich are well remembered by the public everywhere, no doubt, for their party activities till 1894, when they became quiescent because of the silver declarations of the party. Edward M. Shepard, another anti-Leventritt legal luminary, has been a Democrat for many years, though he has several times been foremost in reviving within the party against the machine. All these men, and many more like them, though less well known, are for Van Wyck and not for Roosevelt, yet the Republicans are hoping, and not without some show of reason, that the anti-Leventritt movement will carry thousands of votes to the republican gubernatorial candidate. It is only fair, however, to say that there are Democrats a plenty who believe the anti-Leventritt movement will add strength and not weakness to the Democratic state ticket.

The Newspapers in the Fight.

The New York newspapers were never more strongly grouped than they are this fall. First there are the straight out Republican journals—The Tribune, The Mail and Express, The Press, The Commercial Advertiser and The Sun, latterly recruited to the G. O. P. All these are straight for Roosevelt, and of course, are in favor of Daly and not Leventritt on the judiciary ticket.

Second, there are the straight out Tammany organs—The News, published in the afternoon at a cent, taken chiefly by workmen, and The Telegraph, published in the morning at 5 cents and devoted to sports, sporting matters and theatricals as well as the support of Tammany. These two journals favor both Van Wyck and Leventritt.

In the third class come The World, The Journal, The Times, which support Van Wyck, but condemn Leventritt, each according to its style, with the utmost bitterness. The association of these three papers, along exactly similar lines, is as interesting as anything in the campaign.

The Post looks by itself as usual. It is working both ways against Leventritt, but it favors neither Roosevelt nor Van Wyck for governor, nor any one else so far as official candidates are concerned.

The Missouri supreme court has granted the middle-of-the-road Populists a writ of mandamus to compel the secretary of state to place their ticket on the official ballot. The regulars claimed that the middle-of-the-roaders were bolters from the regular convention, but the supreme court holds that this faction had a majority of the delegates.

At a meeting of the wire nail manufacturers it was decided to reduce the price of wire nails 5 cents per keg, and to advance the price of galvanized wire, both smooth and barbed, 5 cents per 100 pounds. This latter action was taken on account of the enormous rise in the price of spelter, which is now worth $30 per ton more than at this time a year ago.

Clara Kluge, who claims to have been the contract wife of Adolph Sutro of San Francisco, has begun a legal fight for some of the Sutro millions by filing an application for letters of guardianship over her two children, who are named in the application Adolph New-ton Sutro and Adolphine Charlotte Sutro. The petitioner claims that the children are the legal offspring of the dead millionaire.

WISE AS SOLOMON.

A shoemaker who lived at Perpignan was sitting at his door one day. While he worked he sang a ballad very much in vogue at that time. A gentleman on horseback passing by stopped to listen to the song. He remained there until the shoemaker had finished. Then he descended from his horse, approached the man and, taking a pair of scissors, he cut into pieces several pairs of new shoes; then, without saying a word, he remounted and continued his way.

The shoemaker, at first stupefied, soon started after the horseman, crying: "You wretch! Why have you been so cruel? I am poor. I have never done you any harm. Why have you ruined me?"

The cavalier replied tranquilly: "My friend, you are angry with me. You say I have done you a great deal of harm. Come with me to the king. He is just. You will make your complaint, and I will explain my conduct. The king will judge which of us is in the right."

The shoemaker consented, and they both went before the king. The shoemaker spoke first and said:

"Sire, this gentleman stopped before my shop this morning and without saying a word cut my shoes in pieces. He had no reason for so doing, as I have never done him any harm."

The king said: "My poor man, you are right. This man is very cruel. Sir, why were you so unkind to this poor man? Defend yourself."

"Sire," responded the man, "will you permit me to ask the shoemaker a few questions?"

The king signified his assent, and the cavalier said:

"Shoemaker, what were you doing when I stopped at your door?"

"I was making a pair of shoes for a neighbor."

"What else were you doing?"

"I was singing. It is my habit when I work. The birds sing. I do not sing as well as the birds, but I sing well enough to amuse myself and that is sufficient."

"That is not sufficient for me. What song were you singing?"

"I was singing 'The Silence in the Forest.'"

"Very well. It was I who composed the words and the music of that ballad. I stopped because you were singing my song so loud that every one in the street could hear you. But when I heard how badly you sang it I became angry. You did not sing one note correctly. You have completely spoiled my song. If you had sung it inside your house, I would not have said a word, but you sang it in the street, and in singing it so incorrectly you have lessened my fame. Now, as you have ruined my song, I thought I had the right to cut up your shoes, for that song was my work just as well as the shoes were yours."

On hearing these words the king began to laugh with all his heart and said: "My friends, you are both right, but as it is not fair that this poor shoemaker should lose the price of his shoes I will pay for them. Neither is it right that the repetition of a musician should suffer, so I invite you to sing your song at my court this evening, and I promise you that every one will be there to hear how beautiful it is."

The judgment of the king pleased both the man and all the courtiers. He declared that the king was as wise as Solomon and that his judgment was just as reasonable as the Contest of Legendes (Translated from the French by Mrs. H. A. Sawyer).

Mother and Son.

There was once a boy in college, and he was about to graduate. He wrote back to the farm to his mother to come. She replied she could not do so. She said her clothes were worn, and she had no money to buy new ones for the occasion. She had already turned the shirt once, and it was mended on both sides.

The boy asked her to come anyway. The old woman went, dressed in her best, which was not very good. The commencement was in a fashionable church. The son was proud of her more than of all his honors. He walked with her down the aisle to the center of the church and saw her into one of the best seats. There were tears in her eyes and she burst out weeping when her son came out and pronounced the valedictory. The president placed a badge on his coat.

The young man left the stage and went directly to his mother. He took off the badge and pinned it to her dress. There were tears in his eyes, and then he bent over and kissed the wrinkled cheek.—Dwight L. Moody

Know a "Holliday"?

A little boy spent a holiday in the country at his grandmother's. Such a good time as he had, running and playing and shouting for all he was worth. At last night came, and, tired and sleepy, the little boy sought repose. "Oh, grandma," he cried as he kissed her good night, "how I know what a holliday really and truly is, for I've hollided all day long."—Detroit Christian Her.

Bicycles in War.

Many who wondered why bicycle troops were not employed in the late war have now begun to understand that on the roads of Cuba, which are worse than the famous "rocky road to Dublin," wheels would not stand the test. Given a country where the good roads agitation had accomplished the building of the fine thoroughfares, the "rough riders of the wheel" would probably demonstrate the use of the bicycle as a war equipment.

BOYS OF '98

Reception to Volunteers By Grand Army and Other Organizations.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC CELEBRATION

Parade and Big Meeting. Department Commander Bartlett and Others Deliver Patriotic Addresses. Northern Berkshire's Formal Greeting to Local Soldiers.

The old veterans welcomed the new Tuesday evening with a reception in this city that was the most inspiring exhibition of patriotism that this city has seen for many years. All of the boys of '98 who were able to be present were received by the members of the Grand Army in their hall on Holden street, and there followed a rousing list of addresses which showed the hearty interest the men who fought for the Union in '98 have taken in the fortunes of their younger brothers in arms, those who fought for the nation in '98.

From the time when the volunteers reached the city from Adams and Williamstown early in the evening till the exercises at the hall were over, the occasion was one of continuous enthusiasm. Rarely does any event bring a greater crowd to Main street than was assembled to see the parade that was a feature of the evening, and the hall would have been filled with an interested audience if it had been many times larger. The members of Company M and of the Second New York regiment were cheered all along the line of march, which was necessarily short, and in the hall the slightest allusion to the deeds of those who fought in Cuba was received with great applause.

The veterans of Adams and Williamstown were associated with the local Grand Army in greeting the volunteers, and the other organizations which are allied with the G. A. R. and which have worked for the relief of the soldiers were present. These included the Woman's Relief corps, the Sons of Veterans, the Daughters of the American Revolution, and the Soldiers Relief association. From the point of view of the Grand Army organization the occasion was notable also on account of the visit of the department commander of Massachusetts, W. H. Bartlett of Worcester, the first since his election.

The Company M members, who are now on duty at the Adams army, in preparation for the mustering out, came up to this city on special cars, reaching here at about 7.45. At nearly the same time the Williamstown volunteers arrived. They were met on Main street between Holden and Eagle by the local veterans, and headed by the Williamstown band the parade was formed, marching to the soldiers' monument, where there was a large bonfire, counter-marching there, and returning by Main and Holden streets to the G. A. R. hall.

The line of march was lighted up much of the way with red fire, and Roman candles were freely burned. The Richmond artillery formed, a part of the procession, and fired salutes all along the route. As they passed the Company M men were greeted with cheers and hand clapping, and an enthusiasm which gave audible expression, for perhaps the first time since they have been able to appreciate it, to the intense loyalty the city has to the soldiers who went from here last April.

In the hall the volunteers occupied the platform, with the speakers and guests from out of the city. After music, the opening address of welcome was given by Captain H. H. Fowler, who spoke of the peculiar interest the Grand Army had for the members of the recent army. He introduced as the chief speaker Department Commander Bartlett of Worcester.

Mr. Bartlett made a happy speech in which he emphasized the close relations between the veterans and volunteers, and spoke of the increased pride which an American could feel in his country as a result of the achievements of the army in Cuba. He compared some of the experiences of the boys of '98 with those of the boys of '98, and his address was greeted with much applause.

Captain Hicks made a short speech, in which he made one of the hits of the evening in referring to the members of Company M as his "yellow kids," and in which he told of some of the company's experiences.

Those who spoke for the city were Congressman Lawrence, Mayor Cady and Col. Bracewell. Mayor Cady referred to the pride the city had in being able to welcome the soldiers who had gone from northern Berkshire to New and Second Hand Furniture, Shoes, Etc.

One of the pleasantest features of the evening was the presence of Mrs. Sanford, mother of C. D. Sanford, for whom the local post of the Grand Army was named. She made a short address, speaking of the honor that was done herself and her son in the naming of the post.

After the exercises in the hall light refreshments were served in the dining room, and a social time followed before the volunteers returned to their homes.

They Want Mr. Enigh.

The Pittsfield Eagle, in writing of the high school muddle in that city, says: An effort is being made by the sub-committee on buildings of the school committee to have Mr. Enigh, commissioner of public works in North Adams, examine the ceilings and walls at the new high school. Mr. Enigh is said to be an expert in this line and his report will be accepted by the committee as final.

A Pleasant Surprise Party.

A large party of ladies from the stitching room of W. G. Cady's shop surprised the shopman, Mrs. Nettie Young, at her home in Clark street Tuesday evening, and enjoyed a very pleasant evening with games, singing and dancing. A professional fortune teller who was present added no small amount of enjoyment to the evening's entertainment. Miss Gracie Briggs and Miss Jennie Roberts presided at the organ, and Miss Maggie Lewis and Mrs. Gertrude Hill sang. Refreshments were served, and it was after midnight when the party left.

BRUSH FACTORY STARTING.

A. F. Phillips of Briggsville Will Start Business Here.

A. F. Phillips, who runs a brush factory in Briggsville, has hired room and power in Gatsick's brick block of E. E. Hyam and is getting ready to manufacture here a brush for use in shoe factories which was invented and patented by himself. He believes this a better location than Briggsville for the manufacture of such brushes, as the shoe men can conveniently stop in and buy at any time and it will be easier to bring the business to the attention of out of town men who happen to be in the city.

The Briggsville factory will be continued as heretofore, the business here being conducted as a separate enterprise, though both will have the personal supervision of Mr. Phillips.

The Briggsville factory was started six years ago and the business, though not a large one, has been very successful. Four men and six girls are employed there and factory and machine brushes of various kinds are made. Many of them are sold to the manufacturers of this city and a good outside trade has also been built up. Mr. Phillips being on the road a good share of the time. At the factory in this city four men will be employed on the start and if the business meets the expectations of the proprietor the force will have to be increased. The equipment will be put in at once and the manufacture of brushes will begin within 10 days or two weeks.

BIG SOCIALIST RALLIES.

Candidate For Governor Tonight, and Big Parade Before Election.

George R. Pearce, the socialist candidate for governor of the state, reached this city this afternoon for a two days visit. This evening, on account of the weather, he will speak in St. Jean Baptist hall instead of in the open air, as was at first planned. The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock by W. M. Connors, and Mr. Knott of Braytonville, with whom Mr. Pearce will stay, will also make a short address on the local campaign.

Mr. Pearce will also speak here tomorrow night, at monument square if the weather permits, and in the hall if necessary. This evening before the meeting there will be fire and fireworks on Bank street near the hall.

Plans are being made for the greatest socialist rally of the campaign on the night before election, November 7. There will be a parade of socialists from this city and Northern Berkshire, headed by the Germania band of Adams. The candidate for mayor, Philip Connors, will make an address on that occasion.

Robert McKeown, who has been speaking daily in this city for the past week or so, left this afternoon for New Bedford, where he will conduct meetings.

Will Move to New Jersey.

L. H. Thomson left the city this morning for Orange, N. J., where he will make his home with his brother, Orlando Thomson, cashier of the Anglo-Swiss Condensed Milk company, whose office is in New York city. Mr. Thomson has been bookkeeper for the Burlingame & Darbys company for 17 years, which position he was obliged to resign recently on account of his health. He is a prominent member of the Baptist church and a citizen highly respected by the community, and the good wishes of all will follow him to his new home. His brother has four young sons in whose training and education he wishes him to take part and at the earnest solicitation of him and his wife Mr. Thomson consented to make his home with them for the present. His sister remains in this city.

Superior Court Doings.

Most of the day in the superior court Tuesday was occupied with the Folwell case against the Springfield Union and Lowell Mail for libel. The case is one of the best known libel cases ever heard in New England. Since the publication of an article, which has proved to be libellous, Folwell has sued and been successful in cases against several papers. This morning there was a long argument as to the court allowing the presentation of the retractions of the two papers and after some little time the court ruled that this was perfectly in order.

The jury for the case included H. A. Northup of Cheshire, William Norton of Cheshire, H. L. Brown of Florida, T. F. Loftis, C. C. Fisher, and Robert Darrow of this city.

County Congregationalists.

The north and south Berkshire Congregationalists met in union conference at the Dalton Congregational church Tuesday. There was a large representation of both districts. The morning session opened at 11 o'clock. Deacon F. E. Mole of Adams, president of the conference, presided. He was necessarily absent, so Rev. W. V. Davis of Pittsfield presided. There was an interesting program of papers and discussions.

The officers elected of the north Berkshire conference were: President, Rev. W. V. Davis of Pittsfield; vice-president, A. C. Sharp of Richmond; scribe, George French of this city; committee on church work for three years, Rev. A. E. Penhman of Adams.

Goulier-Sherman Wedding.

Albert Goulier and Miss Gertrude May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sherman, were married at 10.30 o'clock today at the home of the bride's parents, 25 Marietta street. It was a quiet wedding, only relatives and a few intimate friends being present. The officiating clergyman was Rev. J. H. Spencer, pastor of the Baptist church. After the ceremony the congratulations of the company were extended and a collation was served. The couple left for Boston and will spend a week or two in that vicinity. Mr. Goulier is a clerk in Tower's Eagle street market and is well known and has many friends. The bride also has a large acquaintance and many friends, all of whom extend their good wishes. The couple received many handsome presents.

FRANCO-AMERICAN CONCERT.

Large Financial Receipts and an Artistic Success.

The concert given at the Columbia opera house Tuesday night under the auspices of the Franco-American club of Berkshire county was a success artistically and financially. It was heard by a full-sized audience which by no means represented the number of tickets sold. Many tickets were disposed of down the county, from which quarter but few people were able to attend. Some were present from Pittsfield and Williamstown and a special car brought a good number from Adams.

The concert was given by Vittorio Da Prato and several other artists from New York. Mr. Da Prato is a violinist of exceptional skill, and competent judges pronounced Miss Shorey, the pianist, a true artist. The vocal selections by Helen Parepa, soprano, and George E. Stanfield, basso, were received with enthusiasm and the entire program was highly enjoyable and satisfactory.

The proceeds go into the county naturalization fund of the Franco-American club. The accounts are not yet settled, but it is known that a substantial sum will be cleared.

Hand Ball News.

There were four exciting games of hand ball played at the Howland hand ball court at Zylont Tuesday afternoon. The contestants were James Ryan and Cornelius Murphy vs. Patrick Ryan and John O'Brien. Ryan and Murphy won the first two games, 21 to 14 and 21 to 12. The other couple won the last two games, 21 to 13 and 21 to 15. The games were watched with interest by number of people.

The Pittsfield papers and Pittsfield men have had considerable to say regarding a match game of hand ball between Flynn of that city and Ryan of here. They say the Pittsfield man has plenty of money and backers. To prove that Flynn and his admirers are nothing more than talkers Mr. Ryan in company with two other men visited Flynn last week. Ryan offered to play for $100 a side or said he would give Flynn $25 if he would make a match for $25. The result was Mr. Flynn dare not accept. There are plenty of Pittsfield men who heard Mr. Ryan's offer and it is hoped that hereafter Mr. Flynn will "re-ste tranquille."

At the Theaters.

At the Wilson theater this evening the play will be "Where is Benson?" a comedy by John Fowler. The play was presented in Troy last week, and made a most favorable impression in that theater, which was crowded. The play is one on entirely new lines for a comedy, and is said to be one of the funniest things of its class that have been put on the stage in recent years. The situations are novel and funny, and the lines of music are bright. The cast includes Frank Blair, D. J. White, Giles Shine, J. A. Bass, Miss Idaline Cotton, Miss Monte Donico and many others.

"All Aboard," another funny comedy with a bit of the farce in it will play in the Wilson tomorrow evening. The Ott Brothers are at the head of the company, and an evening of lively fun is promised. The play has a mildly continuous plot on which to hang the specialties, and the management promises an excellent assortment of these. There was not a large audience for the second performance of "Lost in New York," last evening at the Wilson. The performance differed little in quality from the first night's.

Will Go Into Business.

Rev. William Spencer, who recently resigned as church missionary of the Baptist church in this city, left today with his family for Readsboro, where he will make his home and go into business. He has gone into partnership with E. E. Cady of that town in the manufacture of the shoe racks invented by E. E. Cady of this city, and described some time ago in this paper. A factory will be built, and the machinery has been purchased, so that the work of manufacturing the racks will begin in a short time. The firm will also do other wood manufacturing.

Death of John Hickey.

John Hickey died at the hospital Tuesday afternoon of typhoid fever, aged 27 years. He came from Boston about two years ago and was employed as second cook at the Wilson. He recently had an attack of typhoid fever, but supposed he had recovered and resumed his work about two weeks ago. He suffered a relapse and was taken to the hospital, where he died as above stated. Mr. Hickey was a faithful and steady man and was well liked by all who knew him. The body was taken to Boston this afternoon for burial.
